Receipt of Commissions

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—The senate investigating committee, given until Feb. 28 to dig further into allegations of graft in the state government, sought to learn today why a former Akron mayor received commissions on gasoline sold to the state.

It ordered Burt Zimmerman, former president of the Columbia Oil and Refining company, Cleveland, and Herbert E. Doner, former sales manager, to produce records of payments to G. Lloyd Weil.

Vote to Adjourn Feb. 28

Continuation of the investigation was assured when the house voted to adjourn sine die Feb. 28 and leaders of the senate said that body would concur. Adjournment of the legislature, many of its members agree, will end the investigation, and lieutenants of Gov. Martin L. Davey fought for a Feb. 10 adjournment date.

In a committee hearing yesterday, Weil, who contributed about $3,500 to the state Democratic campaign fund before 1935, admitted that he received commissions on sales by Columbia through him to the state in 1935 and 1936.

He refused to answer when the committee asked what services he performed and whether he divided the compensation with another person. He refused, too, to disclose the percentage of the commissions he received or the nature of his position.

Admits Receiving Check
Weil admitted receiving a check for $25 from Columbia last April, but would not say what other compensation he received.

An inquiry as to whether he received commissions on commodities sold by other firms to the state brought the reply: "I won't answer."

Seated beside Weil at the hearing table was Charles S. Druggan, an attorney, who frequently objected to the questions of James Metzger, committee counsel. He terminated many of the questions an unwarranted "inquisition" into the former mayor's private affairs.

Druggan was counsel for Democratic State Chairman Francis W. Perkins, when he testified before the committee recently.

The committee turned next to Glenn Horn, state purchasing agent, to inquire why he purchased 10,000 tons of coal from the Mahoning Coal company in Cleveland for $1.75 a ton when the City of Cleveland bought the same coal for 78 cents a ton.

Trying to "Smear" Him

Horn asserted he believed the committee was trying to "smear" him by choosing an isolated high and low in coal purchase prices. Metzger denied the committee used such tactics. The purchasing agent testified this department desired to pay a price higher than 78 cents in order to help Ohio miners. He said he also had a policy of not requiring competitive bidding on state coal orders. The purpose of this, he added, was to give contracts to union operated mines.

Nine Die In Winter Storms,
Floods; Break Seen In OhioNiagara Falls Bridge Is Saved From Immediate Destruction

(By Associated Press)

Chilling winds extended today a cold wave which blockaded highways of upper Michigan with snow and spread sub-normal temperatures as far south as central Florida.

Nine deaths were attributed to winter storms and floods.

A shift in the wind relieved the pressure of an ice jam against "Honeymoon Bridge" at Niagara Falls and saved the 1,200-foot steel span from immediate destruction.

Drifts 30 Feet Deep

Michigan highway crews cut through snowdrifts ranging up to a depth of 30 feet in the northern part of the state. Workers rescued hundreds of motorists. Mine operations ceased and some schools were closed.

Temperatures dropped below the zero mark at many points in the midwest yesterday. Bemidji, Minn., reported 20 below.

Fair, cold weather and recession of headwaters localized winter floods of Arkansas.

Power and telephone lines were washed out by flooded Rock river in Whiteside county, Illinois. Cold weather was expected to relieve flood conditions on two rivers in Maine.

Storms buffeted shipping on the Great Lakes and at sea.

Two fishing tugs, the Bonnie and Edna, were crushed by ice in Charlevoix harbor.

Her propeller damaged, the British freighter Pencarrow was taken in tow late yesterday by the tug Foundation Franklin of Halifax, N. S., in heavy seas about 60 miles off the Nova Scotia coast.

Flurries of snow were reported in Ocala and Brooksville, Fla., about a third of the way down on the peninsula.

Four Newberry youths missing since early Tuesday morning were found safe at a farmhouse three miles north of Engadine, Mich., state police said.

Munising, Mich., remained isolated. No telephone communication was possible and all roads were blocked.

An unheeded report was heard that an infant, rescued with two men and a woman from a car stalled in snow, had died in a Munising hospital.

COUNTY ALLOTS
FUNDS FOR 1938$145,000 For Roads and
Bridges Heads Appropriations

LISBON, Jan. 26.—An appropriation of $145,000 for the county road and bridge fund was the largest single item in a $600,000 measure approved Wednesday by the county commissioners for the operation of county offices and agencies.

An additional appropriation of $80,000 for maintenance and repair also was included in the budget. The larger sum is to be spent on new county roads and bridges during 1938, including the secondary road program. The latter amount will be used in maintaining roads and bridges already constructed.

Requests for increases made by the majority of departments were refused in all but three instances. Increased work in the clerk's office, necessitated by the new certificate of title law, resulted in an advance sufficient to pay the salaries of three additional workers employed since Jan. 1.

Similar boosts in the recorder's office, as well as juvenile court, were included because of additional work. But in all other instances no additional money was allowed.

The appropriation for the county schools was fixed at $10,954.16 and for the county home at $36,660. The figure for the Fairmount Children's home near Alliance, jointly supported by Stark and Columbiana counties, was $28,000.

The appropriation total of $940,594 is under the $1,047,621 figure of last year. The difference is due to bond retirement.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Engineers detected a slight new "twist" in the spidery steelwork of Niagara's famous "Honeymoon Bridge" today after the arch had held its position rigidly for nearly 24 hours against a record ice jam.

Observers said a groaning spread through the steelwork. A slight movement appeared in the intertwined girders and then the sounds and motion suddenly ceased.

MERCY CHAPTER
ASKS CHINA AIDAppeals for Funds to Relieve Suffering Civilians in Orient

Each chapter of the national American Red Cross has been asked to make an appeal for contributions from the public for the relief of millions of suffering civilians in China. It is hoped that contributions will reach a total of one million dollars. The National Red Cross will receive and transmit the funds.

$100,000 Given Already

There seems to be a wide spread desire, the Red Cross explains, on the part of the citizens of the United States in every part of the country to contribute to a fund to aid in meeting the extreme distress of millions of civilian people in China.

Already the National American Red Cross has given $100,000 to suffering China from its own treasury and has also transmitted $49,000 received in contributions of which $30,000 was from the various Chinese-American groups in the United States. These funds have been expended almost entirely for medical supplies and for hospitals in China to aid them to continue operations.

The national American Red Cross also spent $30,000 for returning citizens of the United States, who had fled from China, to their own country.

No Solicitation
There will be no solicitation of funds. Any one wishing to contribute to this humanitarian cause may leave their money at either the Farmers' bank or the First National bank.

This good will offering for the distressed millions in China will be dispatched to national Red Cross headquarters as rapidly as it is received and will be sent to an American advisory committee in China composed of prominent Americans appointed by the American ambassador, Nelson T. Johnson.

SUCCEEDS STANLEY REED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—President Roosevelt nominated Robert H. Jackson of New York today to be solicitor general of the United States. He is now assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust cases. He will succeed Stanley F. Reed of Kentucky who today received his commission from the president as a member of the United States Supreme court.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Complete reorganization of the New York Stock Exchange, with a salaried president in administrative control, and an end of the "self-perpetuating" board of governors, was proposed today by the committee for the study of organization recently appointed by Charles R. Gay, president of the exchange.

CANTON, Jan. 27.—Although all main roads in Stark county were kept open by state highway crews many secondary and back country roads throughout this territory were impassable today because of snow drifts.

In hilly sections of the county, particularly in Pike township, where there are several one room schools, only a few pupils reported for classes as drifts blocked their way to the buildings.

Slightly higher temperatures prevailed in Ohio today but weather observers warned that the cold wave would not break possibly until tomorrow.

High winds and snow flurries continued to menace motor traffic. State highway patrolmen reported few accidents since Ohioans remained off highways unless forced out by urgent business.

Early temperatures included 12 degrees at Columbus and 13 at Cleveland. The minimum yesterday was four degrees at Urbana, the state's lowest to date this season.

Rural Schools Closed

Drifted snow caused the closing of a number of rural schools. Most Greene county side roads were impassable and seven of 10 rural grade and high schools did not open. Many Champaign, Richland and Union county schools also suspended classes.

State highway maintenance crews have worked continuously since early Tuesday to keep main arteries of travel open to traffic.

Northern Ohioans sighted late yesterday what appeared to be a rainbow but Weather Observer H. W. Henderson of Cleveland said "it was what we term a 22-degree solar halo."

Its color, Henderson explained, resulted from the refraction of sunlight on a veil of ice crystals at a high altitude.

JERSEY SOLON
FALLS TO DEATHE. A. Kenney, Lottery
Booster, Plunges from 6th Floor of Hotel

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Edward A. Kenney, 52-year-old New Jersey representative, known for his advocacy of a national lottery, plunged or fell to his death from the sixth floor of a fashionable hotel here during the night.

The body was clad only in underwear.

A preliminary examination indicated he had received a fractured skull, a broken left leg and a punctured thigh.

Fostered Lottery Plan

Kenney's major objective was the establishment of a national lottery to be operated by the federal government. This, he asserted, would yield at least a billion dollars a year without undue burden on the people, provide funds for emergency expenditures, and eventually retire the public debt.

Kenney was born in Clinton, Mass., in 1884.

The body was discovered by a hotel gardener beneath a window of a sixth floor suite occupied by members of the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber held a meeting yesterday in the hotel which is four blocks from the White House.

Kenney, a guest at the chamber of commerce meeting, was serving his third term in the house.

A graduate of Williams college, he began the practice of law in New York City.

Move to New Jersey
In 1917 he moved to New Jersey to carry on his law business. He was judge of the recorder's court at Cliffside Park, N. J., from 1919 to 1923. From 1923 to 1925 he was chairman of the Cliffside housing commission.

Kenney maintained law offices in Hackensack, N. J., and New York City.

As Ice Rampage Threatened Niagara Falls Bridge

View of ice packed against "honeymoon" bridge.

A gale-driven snowstorm and the worst ice jam in the history of the Niagara river combined to threaten the Falls View bridge at Niagara Falls, the haven of honeymooners for years. Almost 100 feet thick in places, the jam badly twisted and crushed girders and portions of the bridge were reported to be 12 to 15 inches out of line. The span, a picturesque steel web, is 165 feet high and 1,000 feet long, is 47 years old and is one of several bridges linking the United States and Canada. Photo shows ice packed against the bridge.

Wholesale District

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 27.—Evansville, which lost part of its wholesale district by flood a year ago this month, lost nearly a half-block of it by fire today with damage firemen estimated might reach $250,000.

The flames apparently starting from a short circuit in an automobile on the second floor of the Nash Motor Sales Company, Inc., spread quickly to the adjoining Bruckner Store Fixtures company, the Evansville Goodwill Industries, Inc., and the Pro-Texall Chemical company. Lieut. Harry Metzger received a leg injury when he fell from the second floor of the Nash building. Firemen were able to carry six drums of highly explosive liquid from a nearby chemical company before the fire reached them.

Urges Use Of Income Tax
To Pay Costs Of ReliefAndrew MacLeod, Mullins Executive, Submits Plan
To Senators Bulkeley and Donahey

A proposal that a percentage of federal income taxes be withheld by each community to be used for relief purposes by a committee of business men, has been made by Andrew MacLeod, secretary-treasurer of the Mullins Manufacturing Corp., to Senators Vic Donahey and Robert J. Bulkeley.

Responses indicating this proposal will be given consideration have been received by the Salem man from both senators.

MacLeod's letter follows: "Being an Ohio business executive and, contrary to the general opinion, having the welfare of local communities at heart, I think a way could be found to reduce relief expenses now handled by the government."

Better Able to Judge
"Each community has its own relief problem and the business man of each community is in a much better position to judge where expenditures for relief would do the most good."

"My suggestion would be that the government allow each community to withhold a percentage of federal income taxes to be used for relief by a committee of business men in their particular locality."

This would eliminate waste in handling relief and would enable each community through people familiar with local needs to apportion relief funds in a systematic manner."

Senators Reply
In reply Senator Bulkeley said: "I appreciate your suggestion concerning relief expenditures. I shall be glad to give attention to your views when relief matters are under consideration."

In his letter Senator Donahey said: "On the subject of taxes, will say that in my opinion there will be some changes made during this session. I think we should do a few sensible things and then adjourn to give the country a chance."

DOORNB, The Netherlands, Jan. 27.—Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany celebrated his 79th birthday today—one of his happiest since he fled to his wood-chopping exile in closing hours of the World war.

He was convinced that the once mighty Hohenzollerns, erstwhile ruling family of Germany, and their cousins the British House of Windsor were friends again.

The affectionate signatures, "Bertie, May and Elizabeth," on a telegram from King George VI (Bertie), Queen Mother Mary (May), and Queen Elizabeth spelled for him the healing of a scar which festered when British and German troops faced each other on the western front.

Today's celebration program was on traditional lines: Divine service at 9 a. m., felicitations and presents from the family, the Kaiser in silent prayer in the boudoir which his first wife, the former Empress Augusta Victoria, occupied until her death, lunch with members of the family and a gala evening dinner with the ex-monarch in field marshal's uniform.

Fire, believed to have been caused by a defective chimney, destroyed the modern country home of Roland E. Weingart, prominent Salem and eastern Ohio orchardist, located two miles southeast of the city on the Salem-Leetonia road, shortly after 1 a. m. today.

Loss in the fire, which left the 12-room structure a mass of charred ruins, was placed at approximately $15,000. This covered the furnishings, most of which were new. Only a radio and an ironer were saved.

Awakened By Cat

A pet cat, named Black Sambo, is credited with saving the lives of the four Weingart children and Miss Mabel Owens, sister of Mrs. Weingart, who were asleep in two downstairs bedrooms.

The cat came into Miss Owens' bedroom, coughing and choking from the smoke of the fire which already had spread through the upper part of the house.

The animal, which later is believed to have perished in the fire, came to the side of her bed. Its cries awakened her.

Miss Owens threw scant clothing around Gene and Glenn Weingart, six-year-old twins, and rushed them outside. Returning inside to awaken Vernon, 13 and Raymond, 10, asleep in another bedroom, she fainted but recovered in time to get them out to safety.

Miss Owens, who resides on the Ellsworth rd., was caring for the children in the absence of their parents, who were in Columbus attending the Ohio Farmers Week meetings.

After awakening the children, she called Miss Mabel Warrick of the Egypt road, night telephone operator, on duty here, who, in turn, notified the fire department and neighbors near the Weingart home.

Water Supply Inadequate
Firemen, accompanied by Chief Vincent Malloy, braved the slippery country road to reach the scene, but were unable to save the structure due to inadequate water supply. They exhausted the water from the booster tank and used chemicals to no avail.

The large barn and other out-buildings were not endangered because the wind was blowing the flames in the opposite direction.

Ed Weingart, father of Roland, and H. M. Butcher, a brother-in-law, joined with firemen in a last-minute attempt to save some of the furniture, but falling timbers prevented this.

The fire victims will reside at the Butcher home, situated nearby. Insurance will cover a great part of the loss, it is believed.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—Domei (Japanese news agency) reported today that a Japanese sentry slapped the face of John M. Allison, third secretary of the U. S. embassy at Nanking and presently in charge there, when he sought to enter a house despite the sentry's objections.

Domei quoted a military report thus: "Allison sought to enter a house, to which the Japanese objected, the sentry telling Allison not to enter, which Allison did not heed. The sentry slapped the American's face and prevented entry into the house."

The report asserted the house was Chinese and held Allison had no right to enter it. The report continued, according to Domei, that Japanese authorities apologized and were undertaking to reach a settlement locally.

Judge Lones Fines
East Palestine Man

LISBON, Jan. 27.—Howard B. Cowan of East Palestine was fined $25 and costs Wednesday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with improper license plates.

Cowan was indicted for this offense, as well as driving while under the influence of alcohol, by the January grand jury. On the recommendation of Prosecuting Atty Karl Stouffer the latter indictment was nolleed when Cowan changed his plea on the license charge to guilty. The court order stipulated that the defendant pay half the fine and costs now and the balance in 30 days.

REVIEWING THE PROOF

Stanley F. Reed now has the opportunity to prove his worth as a Supreme Court justice, but these facts about him might be reviewed since he has been confirmed without opposition:

He was conspicuously well trained for the position he holds.

He had shown in his public life that he possessed a judicial outlook; he was not a zealot.

He had nothing in his private life to hide; he did not need to run to the radio before he ascended the bench to make a one-way explanation of his right to do so.

The most aggressive critics of the new deal found nothing to say against him, though his appointment to the court gave the present administration a probable majority. Nevertheless, no one even has insinuated that as a Supreme Court justice Mr. Reed will vote any certain way.

These things are worth reviewing as proof that in the United States it is not impossible to conduct government harmoniously if that be the conductor's purpose.

INSUFFICIENT GROUNDS

Whispers of possible refusal to seat John Milton in the United States senate because his name and happy home life didn't quite seem to make up for his association with Mayor Frank (Boss) Hague of Jersey City were choked off in the whisperers' throats. Mr. Milton has become a senator, just like that. He will continue to be a senator as long as Boss Hague wants him to be, with only one, well maybe two, conditions.

The first is that he continue to be acceptable to the boss. The other is that the boss continue to be acceptable to the Democratic national committee, in which he represents the great State of New Jersey.

In the meantime, if something must be proved by the Milton case, it is that close association with C. I. O.-baiting Boss Hague, leading to condemnation by organized labor, does not constitute sufficient grounds for throwing a man out of the United States senate.

In view of the fact men have been thrown out for spending too much money, for opposing the World War, for being Mormons and for having more than one wife, this is not without some importance.

A NAIL TO BITE ON

United States Ambassador Bullitt's sharp warning of Europe's fate if it continues to be fascinated by high explosives may convince continentalists that an American idealism occasionally bites a nail, too.

They know the ambassador to France is thinking straight and talking sense when he says European war would lead to "Asiatic despotism ruling over the fields of the dead." They know he means despotism, not communism, which is the bogey they dangle in front of people, sometimes in furtherance of their own versions of despotism. For Russia today is characterized not by communism, but by despotism, and it is Russia, undoubtedly, that Mr. Bullitt has in mind.

His warning will have no direct effect, but it might influence the shape of popular thought, which must reach the conclusion that the right to resist despotism is the vital issue in today's world, or cease to be called thought. Survival of separate governments, specifically those which are trying to survive by despotism, has become unimportant.

Sometimes we get to thinking how nice it would be to be able to forsake coal shovel and overcoat and go to Florida and revel in the sunshine, but lose our enthusiasm as soon as we recall what a time we have trying to keep a white suit looking decent for half a day—Ohio State Journal.

It's a good sign when the President asks for advice. And a better sign when he accepts the good of what is unselfishly offered.—Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Roosevelt says: "The government of the United States is not going broke." It's us, not the U. S., that we worry about.—Erie (Pa.) Dispatch-Herald.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, January 28.

Rather conflicting conditions are read from the current planetary configurations. While business and also employment should thrive, there is a possibility of a bereavement or sorrow. It is likely that there may be a sudden move, journey and other hurried visitation. It might be in connection with romance or adventure. There is a menace of strife, dispute or accident. Shun rash and impulsive actions.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of some contradictions. Business and employment are favored. Events of a rather sudden turn in connection with travel, adventure or romance loom. There is augury of sorrow or bereavement. Shun quarrels, recklessness and impetuosity.

A child born on this day may be enterprising, ambitious and well equipped for making a success in business. It may also be adventurous, romantic and scientifically minded.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—"Bulls," as mistakes are dubbed in the news rooms, are the despair of all who live by the pen. Even that most meticulous of writing grammarians, F. P. A., when he was columning, tripped several times on the identical mistakes he jeeringly plucked from works of his fellows.

A "bull" will sometimes go through six or seven expert hands after it leaves a writer and not be noticed until, like a lighthouse in a mist, it suddenly looms on the printed page. In a recent column I wrote about Bill Corum there were three stark errors.

Errors of construction so flagrant a schoolboy would catch them at a glance. Yet they not only escaped me as well as more expert editorial eyes and most of the copy reading sharp shooters on newspapers. Too, every writer has special stumblers constantly to bedevil him.

A number of writers employ part time services of professors in English to study their manuscript and some, such for instance as Ernest Hemingway, do not give a hoot. Edith Wharton is reputed to have turned in the most grammatically air-tight manuscript of any modern.

We had an erudite editor on a mid-west daily who grew increasingly agitated over the butcheries of English in our paper. He cautioned us several times at staff meetings and then one day after a flock of bungles showed up in the noon edition wrote a scathing bulletin to be pasted up at once—promising to sack the entire copy crew if such derelictions happened again. In his 300-word philippic were four terrible "bulls" which were, appropriately enough, riddled in by one of the guilty and gleeful rascals.

An embarrassing moment on the copy desk was during a Taft campaign when I wrote an eight-column page one streamer: "Taft Election Forecasted!" I was utterly ignorant that "Forecast" was correct, but the bawling out I received before the entire staff ten minutes after the edition was out impressed it vividly on my memory.

Out in Cincinnati, by the way, Eddie Steinborn has been made managing editor of the Taft newspaper, The Times Star. Steinborn is a refutation of the editorial shop saw that the faithful employee who sticks to one newspaper winds up a putterer on the exchange desk. He began his journalism as a cub on his paper more than 40 years ago and after occupying the top reportorial assignments became successively assistant city editor, city editor, assistant managing editor and managing editor. Newspapermen who have weathered such storms usually and deservedly become pillars of wisdom in their communities and there isn't a job in New York, Paris or London that would attract them.

Classy togger shops are featuring window displays of the Inverness cape, lined both in white satin and purple. I saw the swirl of two leaving limousines at the curb of Sherry's recently and Cholly Knickerbocker listed several, including Mons. Beebe squiring Libby Holman, at the opera opening. Dudley Field Malone, before taking the veil, used to be an Inverness boy. Phil Simms, so far as the records show, was the first newspaperman to sport this Scottish sartorial elegance. I believe in every man, down deep, lingers an urge to swagger forth in an Inverness at least once, even though he may not be particularly style conscious. The Inverness and the monocle somehow symbolize the unattainable in fashion dictums. Gadgets only for life's Ben Ali Haggins.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

BLOOD POISONING
RECENTLY I TOLD you about the many dangers attached to the careless treatment of pimples and infections of the face. I pointed out that self-treatment might be the cause of blood poisoning.

Today I want to tell you more about blood poisoning. Hardly a day passes that we do not read in the newspapers about somebody having it. In most cases the serious conditions could have been prevented.

Blood poisoning may be caused by a splinter in the finger, an infected hangnail, or neglect of a bruise, cut or abrasion of the skin. Of course, not all such conditions lead to blood poisoning. But when it does occur it takes place so suddenly that nothing can be done to prevent more or less progress. This is the reason why it is so important to prevent the trouble.

Normally the blood is sterile. By this I mean that it contains no micro-organisms or germs of any kind. If they do enter the blood the body is equipped with facilities to develop antitoxins which neutralize the poisons produced by the germs.

Unfortunately, if the germs enter the blood stream in large numbers, or if they are dangerous in type, the body is unable immediately to destroy them and thus to prevent blood poisoning. It will be seen that if the germs ride in the blood stream every tissue and organ of the body will sooner or later be reached by these unfriendly organisms.

"Bacteremia" is the scientific name for that condition in which germs are circulating in the blood stream. As the infection progresses the sufferer has high fever, chills and nausea, and is indeed very sick. There is produced what is medically known as "septicemia." Delirium, coma, unconsciousness and, in rare instances, even death may take place within a very short time.

Prevention is the key. Wounds are saved by transfusion, and by the injection of certain chemicals into the blood stream, the danger of blood poisoning is very great. We can best guard against such severe illness by making sure that germs are kept out of the circulation. Prevention is by all odds the thing to keep in mind. Remember that all minor injuries of the skin, regardless of how trivial they may seem, require immediate medical attention.

Do not accept a scratch or bruise as a matter of no consequence. Apply an antiseptic immediately, and, surely, if there should follow any swelling, throbbing or pain, consult with your doctor. This precaution is especially important for elderly persons, undernourished individuals and diabetics, all of whom are unusually prone to skin infection. Such persons have little resistance to infection and are especially liable to blood poisoning.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland, New York City.

CLEVELAND—A garter that does not bind the leg and impede the blood flow has been patented by Edgar C. Loeber of Cleveland. The new garter fits like the clamps used by bicycle riders around their legs. It is made of thin steel covered with cloth.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, fretting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WRITES AS JAP PLANES MENACE

Former Salem Woman
Tells of Living Conditions In Shanghai

In all of the north country which Japan has taken over, authorities have made regulations impossible for foreigners to comply with, "so all foreigners simply left because their businesses died. There was no way to get anything out of their firms."

Mr. and Mrs. Couch expect to remain there only as long as it's practical.

May Give Up Treasures
Mrs. Couch wrote that in view of recent events there she will not be permitted to bring home the articles of Chinese workmanship which she had planned to bring.

Japan is very keen about acquiring fine Chinese work of all kinds—ivory, porcelain, lacquer, wood, rugs and furniture. Since Japan has taken over the customs, she fears that authorities will prohibit the removal of such articles from the country.

She cited the example of the Shanghai university (Baptist college), located several miles from her home, near the Japanese air field.

"That district was under bombardment from the beginning of the war, so all Americans left the college, expecting to get their possessions when they returned—if the place had not been blown to bits or looted."

"Recently one of the families received permission to return to the college for a time, which they did—to find Japanese troops in the act of stripping the buildings, crating everything for shipment to Japan. About 3,000 crates of personal possessions and college equipment—all the property of Americans—were taken."

"There was nothing the people could do but make a formal protest to the United States consul—which amounted to nothing at all."

No Censor at Present
Mail is not censored at present, but Japan is expected to set up censorship when she gains control of the province and establishes a government with Japanese-dictated policies, administered by Chinese figure-heads.

In that event, information such as that in Mrs. Couch's letter will not be permitted to get out of the country.

She mentioned the city's markets to which she goes each Sunday to purchase supplies for the following week. Chickens, cheaper than beef, are plentiful, the people preferring to use them before Japanese soldiers enter the city and take them.

Mrs. Couch described their home and daily life. She wrote of being presented some vegetables, the first raw food they had had since the beginning of the war, which cut off their supply of raw foodstuffs from the "Homeside Farms," a British agricultural project, near there.

Refugees are required to pay Chinese authorities 60 per cent of the value of all belongings they bring with them, before they can be admitted to the safety of the settlement.

Mrs. Couch termed the sinking of the United States Panay "bad business." Her letter was written Dec. 14. Mail from the United States reaches Shanghai in about five weeks.

LEWIS RENEWS PEACE OFFERS

However, Observers See
No Immediate End to Labor Troubles

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Any possibility of early peace between organized labor's warring factions has been swept away, informed observers declared today, by William Green's rejection of a proposal by John L. Lewis to merge the CIO and the American Federation of Labor.

Lewis made the suggestion in a dramatic climax to his speech yesterday at the United Mine Workers convention.

"It is just the same old thing," Green commented at Miami, Fla., where the AFL executive council is meeting. "No one will be deceived by it."

Identical Offer
Green said Lewis' offer was "identical with the impossible plan" which the CIO chieftain had advanced in the futile peace parleys at Washington last fall.

"We rejected it then," Green added, "because it would serve only to move the scene of war and dissension from outside the American Federation of Labor into its very midst. The same objections prevail now."

Green declared the federation's original peace formula still stands, but he said he had no hopes at present for reopening negotiations.

THEATER Attractions

Myrna Loy, Rosalind Russell, Walter Pidgeon and Franchot Tone have the leading roles in the comedy-drama, "Man-Proof," which comes to the State Friday for a two-day showing.

In the picture, based on a novel by Fanny Heaslip Lea, Miss Loy makes a striking departure from her familiar role of the "perfect wife" to play an ultra-modern girl who overrides old-fashioned conventions in her pursuit of the man she loves.

Loves Social Climber
The plot, in brief, describes Miss Loy as a newspaper artist in love with a social climber, Walter Pidgeon. When he marries Rosalind Russell, society heiress, Miss Loy resolves to win him back. Meanwhile, Franchot Tone, young cartoonist, falls in love with her. When the honeymooners return Miss Loy renews her siege.

Pidgeon is surprised by his wife in Miss Loy's apartment. But when he is offered a divorce he refuses, knowing that he is in love only with himself. Miss Loy at last realizes the futility of her false romance and turns back to Tone.

The State presents two pictures for the last times tonight: "You're Only Young Once," featuring Lewis Stone, Mickey Rooney, Cecilia Parker, Sara Haden and others; and "Change of Heart" with Michael Whalen, Gloria Stuart and Lyle Talbot.

Western at Grand
At the Grand Friday and Saturday will be a new Charles Starrett western, "The Old Wyoming Trail," Donald Grayson, Barbara Weeks and the radio stars, Sons of the Pioneers, have supporting roles.

CATHARTICS A BAD HABIT

If you have common constipation, due to lack of bulk in the diet, the great objection to pills and purgatives is that they only perpetuate the trouble.

Why not encourage elimination with a natural laxative food—with Kellogg's All-Bran. It absorbs moisture and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. At the same time it improves intestinal tone because Kellogg's All-Bran contains the intestinal tonic vitamin B.

Eat All-Bran as a cereal or baked in muffins. And drink plenty of water. Made by Kellogg at Battle Creek.

QUAKERS TO PLAY ONLY ONE GAME THIS WEEK

BROWN MEN FACE WARREN CAGERS ON HOME COURT

Quakers to Meet Presidents In Friday Game Here

Coach Herb Brown's Salem High school Quakers swing into the last half of their 1937-38 basketball campaign this week, scheduled for only one game, this against Warren Harding High's Presidents at the local court Friday night.

It is the first time in three weeks that the Red and Black lads have not been booked for both Friday and Saturday night games. Their remaining schedule calls for only one game a week until Feb. 18 and 19, when they will tackle Akron West and Wellsville, respectively.

Six games, including Warren, are left on the Salem schedule, which was originally announced as a 15-game affair, but was cut to 14 games when Boardman was forced to cancel a contest early in the season.

The Quakers passed the halfway mark in the current campaign last weekend in games with East Palestine and Youngstown East.

Three outstanding games remaining on the Quakers' schedule are with Massillon, Friday, Feb. 4; East Liverpool, Friday, Feb. 11, and Akron West, Friday, Feb. 18. Sell-out crowds are expected to witness each of these contests.

Ratings listed yesterday in the Cleveland Plain Dealer by Prof. E. K. Littenhous of the University of Louisville, noted sports statistician, placed the Quakers 23rd in the list of Class A Ohio scholastic basketball teams.

On the basis of past performances this season, the Quakers' rating is considered as fair as could be reached. However, the ratings of several other teams are questionable.

Conspicuously missing from the top of the list are such outstanding Ohio quintets as Hamilton, last season's state champion; Dayton Dunbar, Xenia, East Liverpool and Port Clinton.

None of these teams is in the top 50 of the list although Hamilton has gone undefeated thus far, winning 10 games; Port Clinton has won 13 and lost one; Xenia has won nine and lost one; East Liverpool has won eight and lost one, and Dayton Dunbar has won six and lost one.

Massillon is given the top position on Prof. Littenhous' list, while Akron North is rated second, Canton McKinley third, and Youngstown East fourth. Massillon has won seven games and lost one.

Notably out of place in the top 10 is Alliance, which has been defeated twice to date. The Aviators have played only three high-caliber teams thus far and have gone down to defeat before two of these. The Littenhous rating places Alliance as the sixth strongest team in the state.

The Warren quintet which will take to the Quakers Friday night is rated twelfth.

OHIO SHOOTERS RECEIVE HONOR

Two Named on All-American Trapshooting Team By Jim Robinson

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 27. — Clay target breakers from nine states make up the 1937 All-American trapshooting team announced today by Jimmy Robinson of Minneapolis, trapshooting and skeet editor of the Magazine Sports Afield.

Hale Jones of Wood River, Ill., who won the champion of champions shoot at the Grand American with 100 straight and winner of the national high average for trapshooters last year, was named captain.

Nine men and one woman, Lela Hill of Strasburg, Mo., winner of the national women's title at the Grand American shoot for the third successive year, were placed on the team—Robinson's 14th annual selection.

Others on the team included: Joe Hestand of Ohio, who took the Buckeye state championship with 200 straight and the Jenkins club world's all-around championship at live pigeons, skeet, doubles, 16-yard and handicap targets.

Carl Stevens of Zanesville, Ohio, 60-year-old veteran who led all professional shooters at the grand American by breaking 874 out of 900 targets to win the professional all-around championship.

Named Coach

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 27. — The University of Oregon athletic board named Tex Oliver of the University of Arizona as head football coach last night to succeed Prince C. Callison, resigned. Oliver was signed at $6,000 a year on a three year contract.

Famous High School Grid Star To Receive Diploma

Bill DeCorrevont To Graduate Tomorrow; College Of His Choice Still Unannounced

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. — Bill DeCorrevont, blonde bullet of the gridiron, steps into a new sphere tomorrow that may lead to everlasting gridiron fame.

This 19-year-old youth will be graduated from Austin High school after a career that made him the outstanding prep player of the nation. His feats include nine touchdowns in one game, in ten attempts, one or more touchdowns in every game in which he has played and more than 200 points in registering 35 touchdowns.

After a couple weeks of loafing DeCorrevont plans to settle down to work until the time he enters the university of his choice for an intercollegiate career next fall. He has been offered no less than 25 jobs for immediate employment.

Rumor number 967 that DeCorrevont already had selected the university which he intends to enter was sweeping Chicago. The latter was that he was going to Northwestern, but this drew a weary denial from the touchdown maker and his principal adviser, Austin Ryan, personnel director at Austin High school.

Baseball also will play an important part in DeCorrevont's intercollegiate career. In his role as an outfielder, he is equally as good on the diamond as he is on the gridiron. After his college career he may seek honors in the major leagues. Four clubs already have made overtures to him.

They'll be saying good bye for keeps to the greatest right-hand hitter of his day, Rogers Hornsby, who won't even be in a big league park, and two of the classic of modern third basemen, Pie Traynor and Jimmy Dykes.

Traynor, particularly, won't even be on the Pirates' roster except as manager. He's definitely decided that he's all through, and will rest on the 319 batting average and the smooth fielding record he compiled in his 16-year career. Dykes will make up his mind after a spring training workout whether he'll get into action for his 21st season, but it's highly unlikely, since he has Marv Owen to handle the hot corner for his White Sox.

Altogether, six of the nine pilots who were on the active player list last year, including both Hornsby and his St. Louis Browns' successor, Jim Bottomley, will be missing from the playing rosters for 1938. And two of the other three probably won't see enough action to warrant getting into the box score.

This group, incidentally, represents some of the most valuable playing ivory of the modern school. Seven of the nine hit for well over 300 in careers stretching from 11 to 22 years. Altogether they make up an infield and catching department that reads like a "dream team." For instance, there would be Bill Barry or Bottomley on first; Hornsby or Fordham Frankie Frisch on second; Cronin at shortstop, and Dykes or Traynor on third, with a catching department of Mickey Cochrane and Jimmy Wilson.

But except for Cronin, they've about hung up their gloves for good. Hornsby, at 42, is all through because he bet on races. They'll have to look a long way to find another Rajah who compiled a .339 average in his 22-year career up to the end of the 1936 campaign, and even hit for .321 in a 20-game appearance last year.

Cochrane, who will direct the Tigers from the bench because of the accidental "bean ball" that ended his playing days last May, will go down as one of baseball's all-time catching greats in his 13-year career.

Frisch, who may take a turn or two at bat for the Cardinals in 1938, depending on how he feels, goes out with a .316 mark for 18 years.

Terry, who was on the Giants' active playing list a year ago, has written fairs to a first-base performance that was a picture on defense for 14 years and was accompanied by a .341 lifetime batting average.

Bottomley, out of the big-time after 16 years, goes into the minor leagues with a managerial assignment at Syracuse.

FEW MANAGERS TO PLAY BALL THIS SEASON

Joe Cronin Only Major League Pilot To Remain As Player

BY SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. — You're going to find the playing-manager as scarce as the hair on a bald head when this season rolls 'round.

Old pop time has just about completed a mop-up campaign that will leave only one, Joe Cronin of Boston's Red Sox, still doing regular business at the old stand. It's going to be far different from the last few years, when more than half the dugouts in the big leagues were bossed by maestros doubling as stars in the cast.

They'll be saying good bye for keeps to the greatest right-hand hitter of his day, Rogers Hornsby, who won't even be in a big league park, and two of the classic of modern third basemen, Pie Traynor and Jimmy Dykes.

Traynor, particularly, won't even be on the Pirates' roster except as manager. He's definitely decided that he's all through, and will rest on the 319 batting average and the smooth fielding record he compiled in his 16-year career. Dykes will make up his mind after a spring training workout whether he'll get into action for his 21st season, but it's highly unlikely, since he has Marv Owen to handle the hot corner for his White Sox.

Altogether, six of the nine pilots who were on the active player list last year, including both Hornsby and his St. Louis Browns' successor, Jim Bottomley, will be missing from the playing rosters for 1938. And two of the other three probably won't see enough action to warrant getting into the box score.

This group, incidentally, represents some of the most valuable playing ivory of the modern school. Seven of the nine hit for well over 300 in careers stretching from 11 to 22 years. For instance, there would be Bill Barry or Bottomley on first; Hornsby or Fordham Frankie Frisch on second; Cronin at shortstop, and Dykes or Traynor on third, with a catching department of Mickey Cochrane and Jimmy Wilson.

But except for Cronin, they've about hung up their gloves for good. Hornsby, at 42, is all through because he bet on races. They'll have to look a long way to find another Rajah who compiled a .339 average in his 22-year career up to the end of the 1936 campaign, and even hit for .321 in a 20-game appearance last year.

Cochrane, who will direct the Tigers from the bench because of the accidental "bean ball" that ended his playing days last May, will go down as one of baseball's all-time catching greats in his 13-year career.

Frisch, who may take a turn or two at bat for the Cardinals in 1938, depending on how he feels, goes out with a .316 mark for 18 years.

Terry, who was on the Giants' active playing list a year ago, has written fairs to a first-base performance that was a picture on defense for 14 years and was accompanied by a .341 lifetime batting average.

Bottomley, out of the big-time after 16 years, goes into the minor leagues with a managerial assignment at Syracuse.
